

Anna Seller

Name: Anna Sellers

Date of birth: September 24, 1999

Hometown: Canmore

First biathlon: 2012

Favorite event: Mass start

What is your superpower?

Having the best taste in music.

Where is your “happy place”?

At the top of a mountain at sunset after a hot summers day with my best friends, perfect ‘golden hour’ lighting, camera in hand, eating either instant noodles or two bite brownies and Arcade Fire playing in the background.

Proudest moment as a biathlete:

Qualifying for world youths and winning Banff mountain film fest’s mountain idol.

When I am not training I like to ...?

Hike, back country ski and just spend time in the mountains.

What is your favorite band/song?

Anything from the Walter Mitty soundtrack.

What’s the farthest you’ve ever been from home?

South Korea... I’m pretty sure that’s further away than most places I’ve been to in Europe.

What is your dream job?

National Geography photographer.

What’s the best and worst piece of advice you’ve ever received?

Best: from Caitin Gregg when she told me don’t worry if you break the skis that just means that you were giving it everything you had.

Worst: “it’s just a minor concussion. You can start training pretty much right away.”

What is the craziest thing you’ve eaten?

Kalakukko (weird, salty, slimy fish baked inside rye bread. It’s Finnish).
