

Welcome to Camrose

The Camrose Ski Club is pleased to welcome visiting teams to Camrose. The stage is set for a great biathlon race! Located in the heart of rural Alberta, Camrose is an active community with an extensive trail system with trails that are fit for beginners, experts and everything in between. The city of Camrose is home to Augustana, a campus of the University of Alberta, where students can study while continuing to train and compete in their respective sports.

Founded in 1911 by Scandinavian settlers, Camrose has a population of 17,000 and a trading population exceeding 100,000. The Camrose Ski Club is one of the oldest clubs in Canada. In the early days of the club, ski jumping was the event that drew crowds to Stoney Creek Valley; since then the club has grown and now offers cross-country skiing, triathlon, biking, running, and biathlon.

We have live updates on trail conditions at the following link Trails & Conditions – Camrose Ski Club.
